BRITISH ADVANCE IS OVER THE RIVER

Lord Roberts Reports from Wolve Hock That Vaal Was Crossed at Parys

Scouts are at Viljone's Drift and Hamilton is at Boschbank. No. Enemy South of Vaal. Boers Claim to Have Reoccupied Heilbron. British will be in front of Johannesburg by Middle of the Week. Boers Whereabouts Unknown

London, May 26.—It is officially announced the British have crossed the Vaal river.

Lord Roberts Reports no Enemy This Side of River

Lord Roberts reports: "Wolve Hock, Orange Free State.—The advance portion of this force crossed the Vaal river on the queen's birthday, near Parys. Hamilton's column is at Boschbank. Our scouts are now at Viljone's Drift, the frontier north of Wolve Hock. The local mines are uninjured and work is going on as usual. There is no enemy on this side of the river. Hunter reached Vryburg late 24th."

Boers Announce They Have Reoccupied Heilbron

A dispatch from Pretoria Friday says: "An official bulletin says it is reported the British occupied Vredfort and are advancing on Schoemans Drift. General Dewet announces the Federals have occupied Heilbron and Potchefstroom."

Harrismith Burglars Reported Returning to Their Farms

A dispatch from New Castle, Natal, says: "Louis Koch, magistrate of the Free State, has surrendered. All the burglars of the Harrismith-Verde district have returned to their farms and refuse to continue fighting."

Withdraws Charge of Murder and Accused are Acquitted

Pretoria advises the prosecution has withdrawn the charge of murder in connection with the explosion of the Begbie powder factory at Johannesburg against Longville and Perret, Belgians and William Begbie and Thomas

Richards, Americans. All the accused are acquitted.

The News from Lord Roberts Was Fully Anticipated

As anticipated the first news from Lord Roberts after the long silence was the announcement that the British crossed the Vaal river. It is probably General Hutton's column which crossed at Parys and it may be expected to make a dash at the railroad in the neighborhood of Potchefstroom, whence is directed communication with Johannesburg.

General Hamilton's column at Boschbank, which is close to the river, is about eight miles northwest of Wolve Hock. Lord Roberts headquarters, and may be expected also to cross the Vaal and create a diversion on the flank of any Federal force in the neighborhood of Vredfort.

As he has only about 15 miles to traverse the speedy announcement may be expected that the British commander-in-chief himself has gained a foothold in the Transvaal. He will reach the Federal position south of Johannesburg the middle of the coming week.

The same secrecy which crowned the movements of the main army envelops Lord Methuen's and General Buller's columns, so probably the next official dispatches will show the decisive movements of these wings. Rundle ought to be close to Bethlehem by now and experts expect to hear of some decisive movement on the Harrismith railroad in which part of Gen. Buller's force will co-operate in the direction of Van Reenen's pass.

Should the Pretoria bulletin announcing the reoccupation of Heilbron by the Federalists turn out to be true it will be a totally unexpected development. Jan Hamilton occupied Heilbron Tuesday and nothing has been heard since.

Boer Movements Enveloped in Mystery For the Whole Week

General Hamilton has effected a junction with Lord Roberts. The country in front of them is clear of Boers to Viljone's Drift. The Boers are evacuating all their positions south of the Vaal river, and 5000 have already crossed to the north bank. Probably General French's cavalry is already reconnoitering the fords of the Vaal.

War office observers expect that the next dispatch from the field marshal will be dated in sight of the Transvaal frontier. Bonnet Burleigh, writing to The Daily Telegraph from Vredfort Thursday evening, says Lord Roberts would doubtless cross the Vaal Saturday or Sunday. The British outposts were then at Erste Geluk, nine miles north of Vredfort and 26 miles south of the Vaal river. The railway is much damaged.

While the British is overwhelming force are thus rapidly approaching the Transvaal, the movements of the Boers are enveloped in mystery. The last Pretoria newspaper to reach Lourenço Marquez was a week old. Every one seeking to cross the Portuguese border from the Transvaal is searched for newspapers and letters. Dispatches and mail letters containing even harmless references to the war are suppressed; and the only news that has emerged from the Transvaal during the last 14 days has come by word of mouth.

According to these oral reports the Boers were quarreling among themselves. Transvaal papers, however, were circulating at 50 percent discount. Major General Baden-Powell declines to act on the suggestions of his friends that he should return to England for a rest. He is determined to retain his active command at the front. Advice from Mafeking, dated May 20, say:

The Boers are entrenching at Potfontein, 10 miles east of Mafeking. The northern railway is now repaired to a point within four miles of the town. Ample supplies of plain food are coming in. Colonel Baden-Powell voluntarily gave up 53 Boers and 13 wounded to the Boer commandant, who thanked him for his kindness.

The British are sweeping the country far and wide, seizing horses, cattle and grain. Yesterday President Steyn was reported to be at Bethlehem with a small field force, appealing to the Free States to defend their freedom and independence. Apparently he and all the Free States he can assemble will not join the Transvaalers, but will remain in the northeastern section of the Free State. General Buller has communicated to the colonial government Colonel Buller's report of the loss of the squadron of Bethune's horse in the ambush at Vryheid. The report says that "this regrettable affair was due to the impetuosity of Captain Goff, who was killed."

POTTS DIES FROM THE BULLET WOUNDS

Victim of the St. Louis Shooting. Labor Issues a General Call

St. Louis, May 26.—Harry Potts, the striking motorman, one of the men wounded in yesterday's shooting, died today.

The executive officers of the labor unions have resolved to call on all national and international unions in the country to send representatives here to assist in carrying on the struggle, which they say is against organized labor.

DEFENDS HIS TITLE WITH GATLING GUNS

Sensational War Over Real Estate in the City of Chicago

A BOY WOUNDED BY FIRST VOLLEY

Park Officials Retreat and Call Squad of Police. Police Retire to Arm Themselves With Winchesters

Chicago, May 26.—With 20 armed men and two rapid-firing guns and barbed wire entanglements, Captain George Streeter today took possession of 186 acres of land here.

He hoisted the American flag, threw up the entrenchments and claims to own the land, which, if the title is clear, is worth $50,000,000.

In 1885 with his wife, Streeter stranded on a small sand bar at the foot of Superior. In time the refuse formed a large tract. He has been dispossessed several times. Once he offered the tract to the federal government, the latter declaring it "District of Lake Michigan."

Shortly before noon blood was spilled in front of Streeter's stronghold.

Pickets thrown out by the occupants of the trenches discovered a party approaching them in the direction of Lincoln park consisting of Park Superintendent Redieski and Secretary Erb, reinforced by policemen.

Calls of "halt" failed to stop the park officials, who were bent on finding out who "was encroaching on their ground."

A volley from the pickets' rifles quickly put to flight the investigating party.

One bullet struck 14-years-old Reuben Manly in the right knee, inflicting a severe wound.

The park officials fled to a patrol box and turned in a riot call. A force of 30 policemen, armed with revolvers and clubs hurried to the scene from Chicago command.

When the officer in command saw the display of force, the gatling guns being pointed his way over the intrenchments he ordered a retreat.

The police immediately returned to the Chicago avenue station and arrangements are being made to arm them with Winchester rifles in an endeavor to capture the Streeter forces.

WORTLEY OVERCOME BY FAILURE OF HIS FIRM

New York, May 26.—A passenger on the Cunarder Lucania today from Liverpool was R. Stewart Wortley of the failed firm of Price, McCormick & Co. He was overcome by the news of the failure. He says he is all at sea. He has just returned from a visit to his brother who was one of the beleaguered garrison of Ladysmith.

DAY OF EIGHT HOURS

Industrial Commission Urges Its Adoption by State Legislatures

Washington, May 25.—The Industrial Commission, in its report to congress on labor legislation, recommends improvements by state legislatures rather than by congress directly.

"The subject of greatest public interest today," says the report, "is perhaps that of the regulation of the hours of labor permitted in industrial occupation and especially in factories." As congress has no power to legislate directly in this matter, the commission recommends that a simple statute be enacted by all the states regulating the length of the working day for all persons between the ages of 14 and 21 years who work in factories.

The report says that the employment of children below the age of 14 should be prohibited in factories. The length of the working day in all public employment should be fixed at eight hours. The same time should be fixed for workmen in underground mines in cases of emergency. Employment in mines of children less than 14 years of age and all women and girls should be forbidden.

Congress might well enact that no person under 18 should be employed as a telegraph operator upon railroads, and that all engineers and switchmen should submit to an examination for color blindness; also that it be made a misdemeanor for an engineer or switchman to be intoxicated while on duty. A simple and liberal law regulating the payment of labor should be adopted by all the states, providing that all laborers shall be paid in cash orders without discount, not in goods or due bills, and that no compulsion, direct or indirect, should be used to make them purchase goods at any particular store.

The question of the enforcement of the labor contract by injunction or contempt in equity process is a very difficult one, mainly made so by the abuses which have arisen from injunctions carelessly issued. It is suggested that it might be well to limit punishment for contempt to imprisonment for a brief period, but equity courts must not be deprived of the power to protect themselves and to make their decrees respected. The practice of awarding blanket injunctions against all the world or against unnamed defendants, as well as the practice of indirectly enforcing the contract for personal service by enjoining employers from quitting work, should be discouraged not only by popular sentiment, but by intelligent judicial opinion.

Commissioners Smyth and Harris unite in a minority report in which they express the opinion that it would be both unjust and impracticable to attempt any uniform laws regulating labor in all the states, if labor and capital are to have their full development. Commissioner Daniel, in a separate minority report, concurs in the spirit of the views expressed by Commissioners Smyth and Harris.

Discussion of the Spooner Philippine Bill was continued in the senate yesterday by Mr. Morgan. On the general question of the ownership and government by the United States of the Philippine Islands he was in accord with Senators Spooner and Lodge, but he regarded the pending bill as unwise and dangerous legislation because of the great power it placed in the hands of the president. He was satisfied, however, that the measure would not be passed by this congress, and declared that it was being used as a foil to thrust aside the Nicaragua canal bill. Much of his speech was devoted to the canal bill, and to denunciation of the efforts to prevent its enactment at this session.

The house devoted two hours which belonged to the legislative day of Thursday to the continuation of the discussion of the Alaskan bill without completing it. The session from noon until adjournment was devoted under the rule to private pension bills. Among the bills favorably acted upon was the senate bill to pension the widow of the late General Force of Ohio at $50 per month.

Creditors Are Friendly.
New York, May 25.—Theodore H. Price, senior member of the firm of Price, McCormick & Co., said yesterday: "I think the outlook is very favorable, and I have hopes that we shall be able to clear up our $13,000,000 indebtedness and continue our business. I find our creditors assume a very friendly attitude towards us. As soon as possible a statement of our exact condition will be ready."

To Be Used On Porto Rican Coast.
Boston, May 25.—Three of the revenue cutters in service along the New England coast—the Woodbury, the Dallas, and the Dexter—are to be sent to Porto Rico for use as revenue patrols. All three are small steamers, built of wood, and having sheathed under water hulls. This latter feature will enable them to remain indefinitely in tropical waters without need of docking.

Heavy Influx of Immigrants.
New York, May 25.—Friday's business at the large office breaks all previous records in the history of the immigration bureau. Aliens to the number of 6199 were scheduled for admission. The majority of the immigrants are Germans.

To Strike For Eight-Hour Day.
Fall River, Mass., May 25.—The journeymen carpenters last night voted to strike on Monday next to enforce a demand for an eight-hour day. The agitation has been on ever since the building season opened.

General Butler's Noble Gift.
Fredericksburg, Va., May 25.—On the very ground over which the old Fifth corps charged at Fredericksburg, President McKinley, his cabinet and General Miles yesterday witnessed the laying of the cornerstone of a shaft which will perpetuate in bronze and granite the heroism of the Army of the Potomac. The monument was the personal gift of General Daniel Butterfield to the National Memorial association. The ceremony was with Masonic rites, and at its completion the secretary of war accepted the gift in the name of the American people.

AN ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP A STREET CAR

St. Louis, May 25.—An attempt was made yesterday to blow up a street car on the Spaulding avenue line of the Transit company with dynamite. Two heavy explosions were heard, but nobody was injured. The explosion lifted the car two or three feet and startled residents for blocks around.

A car on the Jefferson avenue line, running south, was attacked by a crowd of men and boys near Sullivan street yesterday, and several shots were fired at the car.

The policemen on board the car returned the fire, and in all about 100 shots were exchanged. Peter Wells, a patrolman, who was riding on the front platform, was hit in the left side, the bullet producing an ugly wound. It is not known who fired the shot, as the crowd scattered as soon as the men on the car drew their revolvers. It was rumored that two men in the crowd were shot, but they could not be found by the police.

A riot call was sent to the fifth district police station, but when the police arrived the crowd had dispersed. The differences between the management of the St. Louis and Suburban company and the union men in their employ were safely adjusted yesterday afternoon, and all immediate danger of another strike has been averted.

Hawkins Whipped by Gans.
New York, May 25.—Joe Gans of Baltimore knocked out Del Hawkins of California last night in two rounds of the fastest kind of fighting. The men were scheduled for 25 rounds at 133 pounds, and both men scaled the limit.

Hawkins assumed the aggressive at once. He smashed Gans with a left hook to the chin and dropped him. It looked as if the fight was over, but Gans took the count of nine and got to his feet. Hawkins followed him fast, but in a fierce jaxup Gans sent in a right swing to the jaw that floored Hawkins. Again it seemed that the result was reached, but Hawkins struggled to his feet at the count of nine. The fighting was furious to the bell. In the second round the men continued their rapid pace. Gans had Hawkins gauged, however, and after one minute and 18 seconds of slugging landed the punch that put Hawkins out.

Boy Charged With Incendiarism.
Haverhill, Mass., May 25.—The fire bug got in his work last night, and although the loss was only $400, the situation for a few minutes was such that the firemen expected a big blaze. Incidentally, the police looked up Joseph Murphy, aged 15, as a stubborn child and as a suspect in several fire cases. A week ago last Monday a fire was discovered on the coal wharf of J. O. Ellison. Young Murphy admits that he was there and that he lighted a fire to warm himself. He was found alone upon the wharf, and as a stubborn child was sent to the city farm. Last Wednesday he was released. Murphy admits having been present at all the fires since Wednesday.

Will Try For New Record.
New York, May 25.—George A. Stone, a long distance cyclist, is covetous of the wheel record from New York to Boston. For that reason he has come to New York, and if conditions are favorable he proposes to leave the city hall at noon today in an attempt to create new figures for the journey. The distance by road between the two cities is about 260 miles, and the best time ever made for the trip is 18 hours and 32 minutes. Stone has prepared a schedule for the ride which permits him 17 hours and 40 minutes in which to reach Boston.

The Rawlcutt Police Muddle.
Pawtucket, R. I., May 25.—Mayor Fitzgerald last evening suspended Police Captain Vananda, whom he appointed yesterday morning to be acting chief of police, in place of Chief Rice, whom he had suspended. Early in the evening Vananda went to the Lorraine mills and took with him Lieutenant Sweet to help preserve order, which was contrary to the orders of the mayor. When the mayor was notified of this action, he sent an official communication to Vananda notifying him of his suspension.

A Priest's Sensational Suicide.
Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 25.—A priest, supposed to be Rev. John J. O'Donnell of New York, committed suicide last night at the whirlpool rapids. He descended the elevator and, after having his picture taken, walked out on a rock, threw his hat and cane back of him and, waving his right hand dramatically, shouted "Good-bye" and leaped into the rushing waters. He ordered the pictures sent to M. J. O'Donnell, New York city.

Knocked Out Sure Enough.
Bridgeport, Conn., May 25.—In a boxing match here last night, Eddie Teabout, colored, of this city was knocked out in the 14th round by Billy Forsyth of Danbury. As he failed to recover consciousness after the count, some alarm was felt, and a physician was summoned. Teabout was later removed to the hospital and has not since recovered consciousness.

A Kentucky Shooting Match.
Hopkinsville, Ky., May 25.—As a crowd of negroes left a circus tent at midnight at Belvoir, numerous persons began shooting pistols. A fusillade followed, about 75 shots being fired. Mary Bell and Frank Rives were probably fatally wounded, and two men were severely injured in the panic which ensued.

Denial of Existence of Fraud.
Havana, May 25.—When the dispatch from the United States alleging, on the authority of an official of the Havana customs service, that gross frauds existed in the Cuban customs were shown to General Wood and Collector Bliss and others officially interested, they were ridiculed and repudiated.

Cured of Kidney Disease

A. B. HENDRIX.
Mr. A. B. Hendrix, a prominent business man of Rochester, N. Y., says:
"Your great Blood Purifier was recommended to me as a cure for kidney trouble, which had been annoying me for some time. I began using it and soon found it was doing me good. I am now well and as strong as ever in my life. I strongly recommend it to all suffering from kidney trouble."

RECEIVES INSULTING LETTER FROM SEC. WINSLOW

Boston, May 25.—The Journal today prints an interview with Secretary Winslow of the Anti-Imperialist league, regarding the reported declaration of Senator Spooner that he had received "an insulting letter from Mr. Winslow, in which he denounced General Otis as a liar." Mr. Winslow says:

"I didn't call General Otis a liar. I wrote a letter to Mr. Spooner, after his controversy with Senator Pettigrew, and inclosed a pamphlet or two. I pointed out several passages for Senator Spooner to read. For instance, I quoted from General Otis' report of Feb. 8, in which the statement was made that Aguinaldo had made a request that a neutral zone be established between the lines of the American and Filipino soldiers. Side by side I placed a quotation from General Otis' telegram of May 1, in which he said that Aguinaldo had asked for no truce, and the statement that he had done so was misleading. I simply desired to point out that contradictory statements were made by officials of the government. At most, I would say that General Otis was an automatic liar. That is the term I should apply in the case of contradictory statements. I have not applied the term to General Otis in the way Senator Spooner implies. I think, moreover, it is legitimate for citizens of the United States to call attention to these contradictory statements of government officials."

Citizens' Express' Indignation.
Philadelphia, May 25.—A mass meeting of citizens was held last night to protest against the alleged action of Director of Public Safety English in threatening the personal character of John Wanamaker if he did not use his influence to have the attacks against the city administration by The North American, his son's newspaper, discontinued. The meeting adopted a set of resolutions, calling upon the mayor and the director to vacate their positions if they could not clearly establish their innocence of the charge of threatening Mr. Wanamaker.

Saviour's Name Eliminated.
Columbus, O., May 25.—The state prohibition convention limited the following ticket: Secretary of state, J. K. Montgomery; judge of supreme court, E. J. Finney; dairy and food commissioner, J. M. Scott; member board of public works, E. H. Brosius. After a bitter contest the convention eliminated from the resolutions the expressions that the party would wage war against the liquor traffic "in the name of Jesus Christ," ministers of the gospel protesting against the use of the words. Woman suffrage was endorsed.

Nearly All Old Officers Re-elected.
Chicago, May 25.—With but four exceptions, the Methodist general conference yesterday elected to serve during the next quadrennial all the secretaries and assistant secretaries of the church benevolences and the editors of the various church publications, present officers being in most instances re-elected. The exceptions were one secretary of the Freedman's Aid and Southern Educational society, the assistant secretary of the Missionary society and editors of the Central and Western Christian Advertiser.

Issue of United Irishman Seized.
Dublin, May 25.—The government has seized yesterday's issue of The United Irishman, containing letters addressed to Earl Cadogan, lord lieutenant of Ireland, by a subscriber whose papers had been stopped by the postoffice officials while in transit, alleging that the privilege accorded to the soldiers of wearing the shamrock was merely intended to stimulate recruiting. The writer also denounces the war in South Africa.

Murder in Second Degree.
Bridgeport, Conn., May 25.—Joseph Szelvas, on trial for the murder of Joseph Wargo, pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree and was sentenced to life imprisonment at Wetherfield. The evidence introduced was overwhelmingly against the prisoner. Wargo was stabbed by Szelvas during a quarrel last February, and died six weeks later.

Woman Suffrage Not Considered.
Des Moines, May 25.—Yesterday was the last day of the mothers' congress. Resolutions of a simple character were adopted. Woman suffrage was ignored. The congress calls for legislation for dependent children of a broader and wider scope, approves the Sunday school work in America, denounces the publication of objectionable matter in the public press and particularly objects to the forms of many advertisements which, it is believed, are objectionable to the home circle.

IMPORTANT CAPTURE

Alleged Head of a Swindling Syndicate in Custody of Boston Police

Boston, May 25.—A man, said to be wanted in the cities of Washington, New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo and Boston, was arrested yesterday by an inspector. The prisoner gives the name of Charles H. Carlton, 40 years old. He is also known to the police by several other names, and he is said to have obtained, with others, from $3000 to $10,000, in various alleged questionable ways. He was arrested for the New York police for the alleged larceny of $2250 from Adolph Schmucke and gave in payment notes secured by deeds of land in Georgia. It is said that the notes became due, were not paid, and, upon investigation, it is said, the land was found to be worthless. It is also alleged that he sold the stock in the store the day after securing possession of it.

Another charge against him is his connection with the purchase of a grocery store at Green Point, N. Y., by which he is said to have secured $3000. The same methods as described above were made in the payment.

In this city, in 1894, he is said to have operated under the name of William Eager. Here, it is alleged that he advertised for men to act as advance agents and ticket sellers for theatrical companies. It is claimed that companies were formed and sent out on the road, but that they seldom performed more than one night. Eager or Carlton is alleged to have secured advances from these people for whom he secured situations. In the spring of 1895 the prisoner is said to have conducted a "business chance" office at 15 Court square.

A man by the name of John C. Robertson of Washington claims to have invested $3000 with Carlton for an interest in a tobacco business in this city. It is said that within a few days every body connected with the office, except Robertson, disappeared, and there was nothing left for the new partner except his experience.

As soon as the necessary papers can be obtained, the prisoner will be taken to New York for trial. He has been arrested several times, but thus far has managed to escape conviction.

The man is said by the police to be at the head of what, in their opinion, is the biggest swindling syndicate in the country. According to the police, he is now out of jail from Philadelphia on a bond, having been released on bail under the name of C. R. Madison, in August, 1897. The police of Philadelphia are still looking for him. There is an indictment him and a woman in Washington.

A Serious State of Affairs.
London, May 25.—Serious trouble is threatening between the British and French residents of St. Heliers, island of Jersey, owing to the pro-Boer attitude of the latter. There have been several collisions, and yesterday troops were forced to charge with fixed bayonets to prevent demonstrators from invading the French quarter. The French consul has represented the situation to the British foreign office, with the result that the latter has wired Governor Hopson, holding him personally responsible for the maintenance of order.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.
Almanac, Sunday, May 27.
Sun rises—4:13; sets 7:10.
Moon rises—3:16 a. m.
High water—10 a. m.; 11:15 p. m.
Showers have been quite general in the Atlantic states, except in New England. Temperatures have risen in the interior of the country as a rule, and are comparatively high. In the Atlantic states they are below the seasonal average on account of the northwesterly winds. Generally fair weather is indicated for New England. Temperature changes will not be marked today, but during Sunday there will be a general rise. On the Atlantic coast the winds will be north to northeast, diminishing in force Saturday morning on the middle and north Atlantic coasts.

Paine's Celery Compound

Gives New Life, Strength, Vitality

This medicine keeps the organs of the body strong and healthy. The blood is kept pure and full of nourishment, the flesh of the body is made plump and fair, the nerve and muscle tissues are invigorated and strengthened.

MRS. E. H. LELAND, PITTSFIELD, MASS., writes: "Some five years ago I had nervous prostration and malaria. I tried several medicines but was no better. A friend persuaded me to use Paine's Celery Compound and it gave me new life and strength. Since then it has been a sovereign remedy for all my ills and I value it above all remedies for nervousness and a debilitated system."

SOUTH WILLIAMSTOWN.

Religious services are at present being conducted very satisfactorily. Rev. John Denison of Williamstown preaches excellent sermons each Sunday morning and Rev. G. V. Stryker of the White Oaks church is taking up the pastoral work and assisting in the mid-week meetings. Mr. Stryker represented the church at the meeting of the North Berkshire conference held in Peru Wednesday of this week.

Gordon Beebe was leader of the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting on Wednesday evening. The topic was "The power of a temperate life."

An interesting program is being arranged by the Sunday school for the exercises to be held on children's day.

Mr. Dillaway of North Adams will visit the schools Friday for the purpose of giving the pupils further instructions in drawing.

Guests at the "Idlewild" are beginning to arrive and soon will all be here. The season promises to be of usual activity which is enjoyed by the inhabitants, as it breaks the monotony of this little hamlet during the summer months.

Miss Laura Hamilton arrived last Monday, who with a sister have been engaged to work at the "Idlewild" for the season.

Mrs. Adeline Sprague is spending a few days with friends in North Adams.

Mrs. Sarah C. Smith has had her barn newly painted this spring, also considerable other work, piazza and house floors, etc. The work was done by Norris Burnett.

There will be no school on Memorial day. The children are expected to march from the schoolhouse to the cemetery and attend the exercises if the day is pleasant.

Mrs. Helen White has recently purchased of Fred A. Morey and sister their real estate located in this place, comprising about one acre of land suitable for a building lot, also the corner lot on which is situated two dwelling houses, one barn, and one store. Possession given September 1. The property was purchased by Mr. Morey's father, William A. Morey, more than 40 years ago and has been occupied by the family ever since. Mrs. White and daughter moved last week from the Idlewild cottage into the Manse, where they expect to remain during the summer.

Leroy B. Smith has this year again enlarged his strawberry field, adding several new varieties, and if the season is favorable expects as usual to furnish his patrons with the finest of strawberries, and hopes also to have a fine lot of cultivated raspberries and blackberries as well.

Edward Stone, who has been suffering for several weeks past with abscesses, is at present said to be slowly improving. He is under the care of Dr. Hull.

The recent very changeable weather has caused much sickness in the community with what the doctors termed the grip, some cases being pretty severe. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pratt and Frank Young and family being among the victims, not one escaping. All are reported to be on the gain.

FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bushnell of Charlemon visited at S. S. Thatcher's Sunday.

Mrs. F. B. Bliss has returned from Adams where she has been visiting relatives.

Charles Clark of Clarksburg with his grand-daughter, Miss Elsie, spent Sunday at H. J. Bliss.

G. N. Thatcher who has been visiting friends in New Haven, Conn., and Russell has returned.

David E. Carman of the Rochester theological seminary is settled as a supply for the church in this place for the summer months.

J. O. Brown lost a valuable horse last week from paralysis of the sciatic nerves.

WHITE OAKS.

The ladies night of the Temple club last Friday was very largely attended. Vice-President Kellogg in the chair. It was voted to purchase the range now in the kitchen on trial. For the good of the order Mark Hunter read a selection from the last issue of the Torch and W. K. Stocking gave his war scenes. Seven and a half gallons of cream and quantities of cake were made way with and every one voted it the best meeting of the club for the season.

Murray Davis and wife from Bennington were visiting at Ira McClen's and attended the club meeting.

The Christian Endeavor held a social in the church this evening.

Pastor Stryker and Miss Sophie Stryker represented the church at the conference in Peru Wednesday.

HANCOCK.

Mrs. Kate Clark and Miss Nellie Burke of Brooklyn, N. Y., were calling on friends in town Friday. Miss Burke being called to Stephentown by the death of her mother.

Clifton Vicker's house was burned to the ground Thursday night. The fire originated from a defective chimney; was insured for $400.

Rexford Ricker is in quite poor health.

Mrs. Will Sprague has returned home after a week's visit with friends in North Adams.

Miss Louise Gardner and Miss Nellie Shumway of Pittsfield spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents in town.

Miss Sarah Gardner had two sheep killed by lightning Friday.

NEWTATES

Newton L. Brown visited at A. E. and M. A. Bliss's last week.

A. E. Bliss, who has been confined to his bed with the grip for two weeks, does not seem to gain as we would like to see him. Dr. Pascoe has been the attending physician.

Mrs. Simmonds, who has been sick at M. A. Bliss's with the grip, is still confined to her bed.

H. W. Burnett is quite ill with the grip. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Stafford of Hawley visited at her father's, Herbert W. Burnett's last Monday.

Darwin Olden is shearing sheep for farmers in this vicinity.

John L. McCulloch and family of Adams visited at A. J. McCulloch's, his brother, last Sunday.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by Wilson House Drug store, North Adams; Dr. Thomas Riley, Adams; Severance & Co., Williamstown.

POWNA CENTER

A. J. Merchant, road commissioner, had the road machines and men on the roads the past week and in a few weeks more will have all the roads in town worked and stone cleaned out, which will be an improvement.

Mrs. Myers, mother of C. H. Myers, has moved into the house of W. E. Niles at Pownal Center where her son, C. H. Myers, can look after her in her declining years.

Mrs. Henry Barber intends to take a trip west starting this week Tuesday and going to see her aged father whose home is in the city of Minneapolis. She expects to be gone for a month or more.

The shower of Friday and the rain of all day Saturday filled a much needed want of the farmers. Every indication at present gives promise of abundant crops of fruit, both small fruit and apples.

Miss Georgie E. Alford of North Adams is making a visit at Mrs. Frank Mason's.

A gentleman from Pittsfield spent last Sabbath at the home of Mrs. Vanclate.

The farmers are getting their planting of corn and potatoes along finely and everything looks favorable to an abundant harvest.

The 14th part of one cent isn't very much :-

Yet that is all the difference in price between a cup of ordinary tea and a cup of

CHASE & SANBORN'S PACKAGE TEA.

Just think! It takes one thousand four hundred cups of tea to make the difference of one dollar. It will take you almost four years, drinking one cup a day, to save a dollar.

Don't you think it is worth 1-14th part of a cent a cup to have your tea scientifically packed, under thorough hygienic conditions, in airtight, moisture-proof packages?

Yet all this costs you nothing. It's the quality of the tea for which you pay 1-14th of a cent a cup more. This fourteenth of a cent on each cup gives you 30 per cent better tea than is ever sold for 50c a lb. If you doubt it, buy a single pound of Chase & Sanborn's Package Tea. It will make over 200 cups.

READSBORO

George Niles takes a vacation this week, visiting in Boston and vicinity.

Myron J. Pike has purchased of Silas Mason the farm and timber land known as the Daniel Bishop place near Readsboro Falls. It is understood that Mrs. Robinson, grandmother of Mrs. Pike and her brother Willie, will move there soon from Florida, Mass.

Horace, the oldest son of Charles Lafluer, died after about a week's illness from typhoid pneumonia. The funeral was held from the Catholic church Tuesday. The interment was in the village cemetery.

Mrs. J. H. Blood is spending a week with her mother, Mrs. E. A. Parsons. Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jewell have returned from their visit in Springfield, and Mr. Jewell has accepted a position in H. A. Hicks' store.

We are glad to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Streeter have decided to make their future home among us in Readsboro. Mr. Streeter is well known here and Mrs. Streeter having spent the greater part of her life in town, they have the best wishes of all.

Dr. Foote is nicely located in his new office in the Bullock block where he is ready to attend to all work pertaining to dentistry.

L. H. Crozier left town for Greenfield Saturday. We wish Mr. Crozier success in his new field of photography.

Lewis Reynolds had the misfortune to lose his watch one day last week, somewhere in the streets between the chair shop and livery stable.

Dr. Nichols of Stamford, was in town recently.

Mrs. Della Rogers has been away the past week attending the Grand lodge meeting of the D. of R. at Burlington. She was chosen one of the committee on credentials.

Mrs. H. F. Jewell of this village was chosen district deputy at the grand lodge meeting of the D. of R. at Burlington, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Niles are spending a few days with their son Horace at Lebanon, N. H. This is their first visit to him since he was married. They will also visit other relatives while away.

Horton Sheldon has been having the grip.

Miss Jennie Phelps of Monroe Bridge is at work for E. J. Thompson at Readsboro Falls.

Elmer Reed is at work in Halifax, carpentering.

Hal Spencer of North Adams is stopping in town.

The social event of last week was the at home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Banister. The weather was rainy which kept some at home. A very pleasant evening was spent with music and games and general sociability. Refreshments were served. There were out-of-town guests present, and regrets were sent in by some who were unable to attend. At midnight the party dispersed wishing them a happy journey through life.

On Friday a very heavy shower and hail storm struck the town about 3 p. m. The darkness was so intense that it was necessary to light up to see to work. No serious damage was done, but the hailstones were quite large and it seemed as if windows would be broken, but none were reported. The shower was very gladly received as everything was getting very dry.

Farmers are very busy getting in their spring crops. It seems rather backward, as it has been so cold most of the time.

Albert Hicks is reported to be a little better and his hands are not so bad.

H. E. Parsons and family took a carriage drive to North Adams last Sunday returning Monday.

Ole Brown visited his parents here a few days ago.

SAVOY

The late cold snap did not injure fruit buds at all.

Spring work is backward, but our farmers are hustling now. A large area will be planted than usual.

We all congratulate our friend Maynard in getting a housekeeper. May his life be long and happy.

It has been quite sickly in the Brier neighborhood. Ambrose Maynard and family have all been under the doctor's care. Amos Maynard and family all sick with the grip, now better. Our genial doctor has been equal to the emergency, attending his patients night and day. We are glad to hear that Grace Starks, who is sick with pneumonia and Miss Cadding are on the road to recovery.

The heavy rains Saturday started the grass. Stock now can look out for themselves.

E. D. Cadding will take the census.

Representative Haskins has his family in Boston with him for a few days.

Nathan Goff has set out some fruit trees on his new possessions in Adams.

C. J. Walker will open his new hotel June 1 with a grand ball on a large scale. Doyle's full orchestra will furnish music. The building is a wooden structure, over 25 sleeping rooms, with modern improvements and arrangements for cooking and general welfare of a first class hotel as a summer house.

John Maranville has his corn planted. We fear it would be better off in his chamber.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to my neighbors to tell about the wonderful cure effected in my case by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy. I was taken very badly with flux and procured a bottle of this remedy. A few doses of it effected a permanent cure. I take pleasure in recommending it to others suffering from that dreadful disease--J. W. Lynch, Door, W. Va. This remedy is sold by Wilson House Drug store, North Adams; Dr. Thomas Riley, Adams; Severance & Co., Williamstown.

MARTWELLVILLE.

A very refreshing rain for the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Phelps of Florida, Mass., were in town recently. They erected a fine stone in memory of Mrs. Phelps' father, Calvin L. Fuller, Mr. Phelps' father, Calvin L. Fuller, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Dr. Morgan.

Dr. Stevens and wife and Dr. Richardson and wife are spending a few days at the Canady hotel.

Mrs. Silas Mason has returned to her home after spending several weeks in Fitchburg.

Miss Lottie Brown has finished work at Mason's store and taken a position with her brother in Wilmington.

Mrs. Annie Pette is assisting at the Canady house.

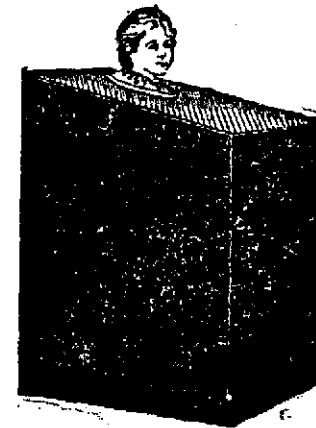

AN EPIDEMIC OF WHOOPING COUGH.

Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for group and naturally turned to it at that time and found it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure. John E. Clifford, Proprietor Norwood House, Norwood, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by Wilson House Drug store, North Adams; Dr. Thomas Riley, Adams; Severance & Co., Williamstown.

SPOONER AND HIS OPPONENTS

Senator Spooner has just completed in the senate a three-days' defense of the administration's policy in the Philippines. It was a masterly defense, every opponent of the policy being met and felled. Mr. Spooner had the facts and an ability to use them which has won the most unstinted praise. Coolidge, the Boston Journal's Washington correspondent, writes:

"Spooner's performance in the last three days has established firmly his place as the best debater in congress, and one of the best that ever sat in the halls of legislation. There has been nothing to compare with it in many years."

Senator Allen was the least prudent of the opposing senators, running the risk of Spooner's shafts more than any other of the anti-administration populists and democrats. Pettigrew got himself in tight places also. The character of the opposition to Mr. Spooner may be gathered from this remark he made:

"We have had here a statement that the president of the United States is a liar, that Admiral Dewey is a liar, and now we are told that General Otis is a prevaricator."

This is the strength of the anti-administration case. Everybody is a liar. No one tells the truth but Aguinaldo. The democratic party and the anti-imperialists have the assurance to go before the American people and ask them to vote to be liars all the prominent Americans who have first-hand knowledge of Philippine affairs.

The truth is only on the side of the enemies of the United States, if you believe the anti-

THE EXTREMES

That lurid word-juggler, Gerald Stanley Lee, has an article in the June Atlantic on "The poetry of the machine age" in which he says:

Symposiums on how to reach the masses are pitiless irony. There is no need for symposiums. It is an open secret. It cries upon the house-tops. It calls above the world in the Sabbath bells. A church that believes less than the world believes shall lose its leadership in the world. "Why should I pay pew rent," says the man who sings with his hands, "to men who do not believe in me, a God that does not believe in me?" If heaven itself (represented as a rich and idle place, seats free in the evening) were opened to the true laboring man, on the condition that he should despise his hands by holding palms in them, he would find some excuse for staying away. He feels in no wise different with regard to his present life. "Unless your God," says the man who sings with his hands, to those who pity him and do him good—"unless your God is a God I can worship in a factory, He is not a God I care to worship in a church."

In the current issue of the Congregationalist, Rev. Charles M. Sheldon of "What would Jesus do?" fame has a story, "Ministry by proxy," the purpose of which is to expose the talented preacher who writes sermons and addresses and throws upon others the burden of pastoral work. The minister Mr. Sheldon discusses was a very busy man. "He had two sermons to prepare for his own church services, a talk for the endeavor society, a lecture before the society for systematic benevolence, a paper for the local association on how to reach the masses and an address before the ladies' afternoon club on social life and manners in England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth." And while he was busy writing he was frequently interrupted by persons requiring more from his heart than his head. They were all sent to somebody else and the minister fell asleep and was confronted with himself in a vision. The Sunday following the minister inquired concerning the personal work done in his church and saw a very few hands raised when he put the question. The story continues:

"Neither have I," said the minister, sorrowfully. "We are ministering to the needy and the sinful by proxy in our societies, in our organized affection. But is that the best we can do?" The week following the minister declined several invitations to lecture and give addresses. He also asked his church to allow him to write but one sermon and take the time usually spent in preparing the second sermon to visiting the sinful and neglected in prison, poorhouses and on the streets. And all the people in his parish and in the city wondered, for he was a very learned man, with several degrees. And they said, "Such men are not in the habit of visiting such sinful people personally. It is remarkable."

Lee is something of an artist and Sheldon is more of a missionary. Lee is attractive; Sheldon is useful. The one wants a Kipling of the machine age and a theology that will defy steam. The other wants the humbler Christ spirit which seeks the heart as its dwelling place. Lee will entertain you; Sheldon will help you. Sheldon is pursuing just such men as Lee, but Lee doesn't know it. And Lee wouldn't care for an introduction to Sheldon.

But there are no masses to reach; there are men. And the work of the Christian is in small part the helping of the sick and sinful and the helping of those in want for material things. The workman is not demanding a God that has a love for wheels or blast furnaces; neither are the masses demanding your charity. "The man who sings with his hands"—a pretty phrase if your artistic conception is warped enough—does not ask you to label him that way, nor is he anxious to keep singing with his hands all the time. He may like to work, but he can enjoy a vacation as much as a word-compounder could enjoy a trip to Europe. That palm-throw of his gets tired singing, and he gets tired all over because of most of the men who write about him.

Men differ in intelligence and they differ in character, but in the minds of the great teachers there is no such classification as workman and other men, masses and the few. There is not a class of the sinner to be the care of another class. There is just the diversified family of man, and if you do not know the common hope, the common love, the common fear, the common desire you had better go and break stones than try to minister by proxy or otherwise.

The report of the industrial commission doing no more than recommending to the state's legislation regulating the hours of labor and denying the right of the federal government to pass a general law is disappointing to those who expected some relief from the unequal industrial conditions. It is claimed the federal government has not the power to legislate for the control of trusts, but a constitutional amendment is proposed to give it the authority. An amendment relative to labor is just as important.

The news is that the British have crossed the Vaal and that about the middle of next week Lord Roberts will be before the Boer works at Johannesburg. The proclamation annexing to the crown the Orange Free State has not yet been issued though it was promised when the Vaal was crossed. If there should spring up in the Orange Free State, once the British are well lodged in Kruger's country, a patriotism such as characterizes the Boers of the Transvaal the British would be in a most awkward position. This is hardly to be looked for, but if there is the opposition to British rule that is said to exist in the Free State the hope of the independence of the republic lies far more in a Free State uprising than it does in the attitude of the United States.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: "In regard to the biographical preface of Bryan's book it is playfully mentioned that his mouth is of such generous dimensions that his youthful associates accused him of 'whispering in his own ear.' Perhaps Mr. Towne lacks this distinguishing feature, but he is enough like Bryan in other respects to suggest an overproduction of boy orators not desirable in the presidents and vice presidents of the United States." The noticeable thing about all these comments is that they take it for granted that Towne will be the running mate of Bryan. If the democracy accepts the dictation of the populists to this extent it will suffer derelictions from its ranks greater far than the derelictions of '96. If it doesn't submit to this dictation there will be a pretty row after Kansas City.

An arrangement of great advantage to clergymen has just been completed by the General Theological Library, 53 Mt. Vernon street, Boston. From this time its books are available for use by all ministers in New England with no expense except the cost of transportation. Those within the 40 towns and cities of Greater Boston may get books in person from the library, and others may draw them through the local libraries, which for their purpose will be constituted distributing branches. Ministers may obtain from the librarian, Rev. G. A. Jackson, application blanks for their local libraries to fill out, and if the book is on the shelves it will soon be forthcoming. A catalogue will soon be issued and low postage on library exchanges seems to be in prospect. The librarian and trustees are to be congratulated on the plans which bid fair to make the General Theological Library of large service to the ministers and churches of New England of all denominations.—The Congregationalist.

One Genet, an agent of Robespierre, once tried to control the United States in a foreign interest in the same fashion in 1793. He also was welcomed by the same political party that has welcomed the Boer envoys. He also sought to plunge this country into war. Tammany Hall is one of the societies formed at that time at his instigation for the purpose of plunging this country into a European imbroglio. There was no John Hay then. Thomas Jefferson was secretary of state. He weakly yielded to popular clamor at first, but finally was forced by the reaction to side with George Washington and to suppress this would-be foreign dictator in the affairs of the United States. Where George Washington stood in 1793 John Hay and William McKinley stand today. The inherited hate of England and popular sympathy with "the under dog" may make them censured by the creaking weather cocks whose joy it is to exhibit themselves upon the house-tops. History justified Washington. It will justify John Hay, neither Boer nor Briton but splendidly American.—Commercial Bulletin.

The firmness of Washington in maintaining neutrality in 1793 appears a greater achievement than the firmness of McKinley and Hay, when all things are considered. There was a form of alliance at that time between France and the United States and the people had vivid memories of the war of the rebellion. The popular opposition to England was very strong, and there is no greater proof of Washington's statesmanship than his sound policy in that vexing emergency. The Monroe doctrine was then born. Had Jefferson had his way Genet would have plunged this country in war. He took the right way of doing it. Not even being as courteous as the Boers to call at the state department, though well knowing he had a true friend there in Jefferson, he began fitting out privateers against England's commerce. He appealed to the people just as the Boers are now setting out to do and attempted in every way possible to involve the country in spite of the government. But over the weakness of Jefferson, Washington enforced his recall, a recall which only degraded him of his official standing, for he remained in this country to save his head and sunk into obscurity.

Memorial Day

O day of roses and regret,
Kissing the old graves of our own!
Not to the slain love's lovely debt alone;

But jealous hearts that live and ache
Remember, and while drums are mute,
Beneath your banners' bright outbreak, Salute;

And say for us to lessening ranks
That keep the memory and the pride,
On whose thinned hair our tears and thanks
Abide,

Who from their saved Republic pass,
Glad with the Prince of Peace to dwell:
Hail, dearest few and soon, alas,
Farewell.

—Louise Imogen Guiney in The Martyr's Idyl, etc.

SEEN AND HEARD.

And they were enthusiastically in love with North Adams, every mother's son of the delegates to the Hibernian convention. Their praises were not of the perfunctory sort, merely a "lovely town, hope to see you again" sort of farewell greeting. They had instead the enthusiasm that speaks of real enjoyment in their visit here. There is no doubt that the local members of the order "laid themselves out" to give the visitors a hearty reception, and the delegates appreciated it to the full.

Next to the delegates, the hotel keepers enjoyed themselves. It was lively work, but profitable. Never before were so many people cared for at one time in North Adams hotels. And even with the new Wellington and Darrow added to the Wilson and Richmond would have been very much appreciated had it not been crowded there was, the hotel men found it an easy crowd to cater to for rarely has a more thoroughly good natured crowd ever invaded the city. Next for the fireman's convention.

If the Seen and Heard man had a piece of real estate to sell, he wouldn't put it in the hands of a real estate agent; he'd ask Mayor Wilkinson to handle it. The mayor is the most persuasive "boomer" North Adams ever had. Witness the mayor's speech. Not the address of welcome with which he captured the hearts of the Hibernian delegates, but his real speech, the one he made every night when he was running for office, and has made at all the banquets since, telling what a glorious sort of place North Adams is. That speech is calculated to make a North Adams man in heaven sigh for earth and a home in North Adams again. If ever the city falls in need of new industries, it would pay us well to pick out a few big manufacturers in other places, and then send Mayor Wilkinson to make that speech to them. They'd pack up their factories and ship 'em here by fast freight. And when you come to think of it, isn't the mayor pretty nearly right?

You've heard the story of the man who grew discontented with his house, and put it into the hands of a real estate agent to sell. When he saw the agent's description of the property in the "for sale" columns of the papers, he recognized it as the very place that he had been wishing for. So he hastened back to the agent and took the property off the market, satisfied with it again after its beauties had been pointed out to him. If ever you should become dissatisfied with North Adams, which isn't likely, attend the next banquet where Mayor Wilkinson is down for a toast, and listen to that speech.

Not close the schools when Buffalo Bill's Wild West is in town? What kind of management would that be? Didn't they close for the labor car-

LOCAL NEWS.

SOLED SMALL TROUT

Sunderland Fisherman Prosecuted by Game Warden Nichols

Thomas Lyon of Sunderland, a professional fisherman, was fined $10 yesterday in the Greenfield district court for selling trout which were under size, less than six inches long. A complaint was made by the state fish and game association and A. M. Nichols of this city was detailed to look up the evidence. On Friday, Mr. Nichols went fishing in Sunderland and at first had poor luck. In due season he came to Mr. Lyon's place and bought a number of trout. Several of them were under six inches. It was the claim of Lyon that he sold only fish of legal length and threw in the small ones. There were four counts, but a fine was imposed in only one and the other three were filed away. This was the first case brought by Mr. Nichols since receiving his commission as a paid warden.

Pittsfield's Grief Again

Mr. Smith, the new paid game warden of Pittsfield evidently does not read the Pittsfield papers very carefully, while the Pittsfield editors are strangely forgetful. Some time ago the Transcript published the fact that A. M. Nichols of this city had received an appointment as paid game warden. The Pittsfield Journal copied this item next day. When the agitation in Pittsfield arose, in favor of Mr. Smith's appointment, the Pittsfield papers mentioned the fact again that Mr. Nichols was believed to have been appointed, although as reported, some of the doubted the truth of the statement. Last night, in reporting the news of Mr. Smith's appointment, the Journal says merely: "Mr. Smith understands that Mr. Nichols of North Adams has also been appointed."

An item in this morning's Springfield Union from the Pittsfield correspondent, shows that the county seat is hardly reconciled to having a North Adams man appointed at all. It says: "Notwithstanding the assertions of North Adams parties that the commissioners had appointed a man in that town for the office, there has been a feeling that the chairman of the board had not decided the matter and this proved to be the case."

CUT GLASS AT BARNES.

No wedding gift commands more admiration than a rich piece of cut glass. It must be of first quality as regards color, brilliancy and cutting, however. Barnes, the Jeweler, Wilson block, has gems in three noted makes, Libby, Dorflinger and Bergen. Just the thing for wedding gifts. In silverware he has the most complete line in the city and engraves free the initial or monogram on any silver purchased of him.

nival? And aren't we going to appropriate money for band concerts because of their educational value? And then are we going to insist that the youngsters stay in school and learn to analyze sentences when Wild West is in town? Can any little boy or girl tell us how to spell "foi-de-ro!"

The Seen and Heard man has had it on his mind for some time to comment on the tendency of some church societies and other organizations to secure entertainments of whose quality they are not sure, and then to call for public support "because it's for such a good cause." The Seen and Heard man likes to be buncoed when he knows that he's up against a real bunco game like a circus, and where half the fun is in being fooled. But when he is deceived by persons who plead the excellence of a cause as the basis of patronage, and leave the entertainment to take care of itself, there is room for questioning the real and lasting benefit that "the cause" receives. Fortunately this does not happen often in North Adams.

A local ice cream dealer asked the Seen and Heard man the other day to write another article on the weather, in view of his recent success in producing heat, to see if he couldn't keep it warm enough for the ice cream! The S. and H. man knows when he's had enough. Two weeks ago, being cold, he decided to utilize his elementary knowledge of the perverseness of newspaper work, and cause it to grow hot. But like all elementary knowledge the combination was lost when the crisis came, and the heat came in such chunks as to cause the S. and H. man to swear off forever on monkeying with the buzz saw. Never again!

Now It Ticks Again

But it Wanted Winding. So Do Other Timepieces That are Worth More Than Watches

When I go to bed I lay my watch on a little table at the head of the bed. Should I wake in the night I always hear the distinct, clear ticking. But one night recently I awoke, and heard no sound from my faithful friend. "What!" said I, "Is it possible I forgot to wind it?" To light the candle and put the watch to my ear took but a minute. Going still? Yes, going still; but very feebly and faintly. I wound it up of course.

That other watch—the watch in your breast. Ah! it does not do to let that run down.

We hear much nowadays of diseases of the heart and nerves. The heart does more work than any other organ in the body. It hammers away, year in and year out, day and night, work days, holiday and Sundays. It is kept going by the blood, and the blood is merely digested food.

We are glad to announce a new and efficient remedy for all ailments and diseases of the nerves and irregularities of the heart. It is from the hand of that widely known physician and surgeon, David Kennedy, of Kennedy Row, Kingston, N. Y., and is called Calcaura Solvent.

It contains ingredients which have proved brilliantly successful in maladies of the digestive and nervous systems, and in disorders of the liver, bladder and kidneys.

Calcaura Solvent restores digestive power, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves and confers health and strength upon the multitude of sick ones for whom fear and anxiety have painted the future in black.

All druggists sell Calcaura Solvent at one dollar a bottle. If your druggist is out of it, then send one dollar to David Kennedy, Physician and Surgeon, Kennedy Row, Kingston, N. Y., and you will receive one bottle by express, all charges prepaid.

So great is Dr. Kennedy's confidence in this new medicine that he will send a free sample bottle to all who write for it. Try it and you will trust it. Be sure to address your request for sample bottle to David Kennedy, Physician and Surgeon, Kennedy Row, Kingston, N. Y., and mention this paper.

C. Weber to C. M. Ottman $500; C. H. Wright to J. A. Neal $1500.

—The cutters' union met last evening and discussed a proposition from Millard's factory in regard to the disagreement with the cutters there. Some parts of this were not entirely satisfactory, and at the request of Mr. Millard the union appointed a committee, consisting of cutters from that shop, to meet him today. It is understood that if this committee cannot reach an agreement which is satisfactory to the union, the matter will be referred to the state board of arbitration.

—The cutters have agreed to go to work again next Monday, and until the affair is settled up, will receive the wages called for by the old schedule, which was changed. The cutters have also secured the difference which they claimed was due them on the wages for last week, their envelopes containing wages on the basis of the proposed schedule, which they rejected.

SOLDIER'S DEATH

Details of the Killing of Thomas O. Bates in the Philippines

WOUNDED IN HEROIC ACTION

Was One of 39 Americans to Withstand 600 Filipinos for 36 Hours.

Official Notice Received by Family from the War Department

Mrs. John C. Bates of Eagle street, mother of Thomas O. Bates, who was recently reported killed in the Philippines, received last evening from the war department at Washington the official record of the death, which is the first of a local man in the Philippines. This letter was from Thomas Ward, assistant adjutant general, and was as follows:

"The only record this office has of the death of the soldier inquired of in the enclosed communication is that contained in this cablegram from the commanding general at Manila, under date of May 14, 1900, which states as follows:

"Thomas O. Bates, private, Co. F, 43 Infantry, U. S. Vols. Died May 3, at Manila, P. I., of wounds received in action."

"It is the intention of the department that the remains of all soldiers who die in foreign parts, be brought to the United States at the government's expense for interment. This matter is under the jurisdiction of the Quartermaster General, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., to whom a communication should be addressed, setting forth to what place it is desired his remains be sent upon arrival at San Francisco, Cal."

Word will be sent by the family to have the body sent here for burial as reported in this paper some time ago.

The details of Mr. Bates' death have been learned from newspaper dispatches. He was one of the 39 Americans who for 36 hours held off a force of 600 Filipinos, and it was in this brave action that Bates received the wound that caused his death. This was on April 29. Only seven of the Americans escaped without wounds. Mr. Bates was born in Shaftsbury, Vt., in 1876, and had lived in this city most of the time before his enlistment. His twin brother, William J. Bates, is a member of Company A, 10th U. S. Infantry now in Cuba.

WILLIAMS' GREAT FINISH

Williams met his old enemy, Dartmouth, on Weston field yesterday, and won in a dazzling finish by the score of 7 to 6. With two men out and men on second and first Russell hit out a pretty three-bagger in the ninth inning and scored both men, tying the score, and then scored himself on a wild throw home by French and won the game for Williams. A scene of more intense excitement was never witnessed on Weston field, and the finish of the game will long be remembered by those who saw it.

The entire game was of the kind that keeps the excitement intense, and the beginning of the ninth the score was a tie, but Dartmouth darkened Williams' chances by batting in two runs, seemingly clinching a victory. Williams' half started disastrously for Dartmouth, however, for Cook gave two bases on balls. Edwards followed with a nice bunt, which was fumbled and on which Lydecker attempted to get home, but was caught. Bent followed with a high foul fly to McCarty and the outlook was anything but encouraging for Williams, when the above proceedings ended the game.

Williams played a hard uphill game from the start. Bent did not have his usual control and in the first three innings was touched up for five hits. The playing for both teams was for the most part, clean and both pitchers did nice work. Russell of Williams hit like a fend, and his Dartmouth competitor for honors in this line, was Brown. The score by innings:

RHE
Williams 1 0 1 0 2 0 0 8 — 7 7
Dartmouth 3 0 0 0 0 1 0 2 — 6 10
Batteries: Bent and Edwards, Cook and Brown.

Four Games Next Week
Manager Keliher of the North Adams team has four games scheduled for next week. On Memorial day the Lee team will play two games, at 10 in the morning and 3.15 in the afternoon. On Friday and Saturday the Louisville A. C. team of New York will play. This is said to be a very strong team. Its batting order is: Lelander 1, Brooks C, Miur S, Patience 3, Simpson of, Wagner lf, Cook 2, Crawford rf, Cream or Koehler p.

Baseball Notes
Marsh of Adams was given his first chance in the box for Springfield yesterday, being put in for the last three innings after Springfield had lost the game. Marsh had not had a chance to warm up, and gave four free bases besides several hits.

The Riverdale Juniors defeated the Seventh grade of the Miner school 17 to 13 in a game of baseball this morning. The batteries were Morrison, Mackay and Rougeau for the Riverdale Juniors and Prindle and Swaney of the seventh grade.

Memorial Services Tomorrow

The regular meeting of the G. A. R. was held Friday evening and arrangements were completed for attending the Memorial services at the Universalist church Sunday evening. The members of the post will also attend the Woman's Relief Corps Memorial services in the G. A. R. hall at 7.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The veterans are expected to be at the hall Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Will Start a Circus from Here

This is from the Bill Poster of May 19:
Tom Hanley will put out a small circus without riding shortly. He is organizing at North Adams, Mass., and may be addressed at that point.

BUFFALO BILL AND THE SCHOOLS

General Manager of Show Speaks. Arrangements May Be Made

John M. Burke, general manager of the Buffalo Bill show, was in the city yesterday, completing the arrangements for the show here next Thursday. Mr. Burke was extolling the merits of the aggregation, when he was asked if he should do anything about trying to have the schools closed for the day.

"Aren't they going to close?" asked Mr. Burke.

"Not according to the present plans of the superintendent unless the school committee says so," was the reply.

Mr. Burke was first incredulous, then he was surprised, then indignant. Then he expressed his sympathy for North Adams. "The boys'll have to go in the evening then," he said, adding that he wouldn't advise them to "cut" the afternoon session.

Then he went on to explain what an educational influence the exhibition is, saying that it was not like a circus, which is a show, but is an exhibition, where everyone who takes part is strictly presenting copies of scenes which he has really taken part in. The Cubans are real, the Filipinos are real, the Rough Riders are real, and all have taken part in the battles which they duplicate.

Mr. Burke wound up by asking the reporter to tell this to Mr. Hall and report to the school committee for the exhibition, telling the reporter to give them to Mr. Hall, so that he might see for himself that the show had educational value.

The reporter did so last night and Mr. Hall, after thinking a moment, said he would turn the tickets over to the school committee. It is possible that arrangements will be made whereby the pupils can see the show after all.

BOLD LEAF IN THE AIR

Unusual Sight While Methodist Steeple Was Gilded Today

Fred Sanguinette, the steeple climber, who has been at work on the Methodist church steeple for some time, gilded the weather vane this morning, and also the tip of the rod above it. While doing this last work he stood on the weather vane, and the steeple was watched by many people on the streets. In gilding the ends of the weather vane Mr. Sanguinette used a long pole and occasionally a few sheets of gold leaf would get away and go floating through the air like autumn leaves, glistening brightly in the sun and being watched by the children until they disappeared among the buildings in some distant part of the city.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Nancy Harrington
Mrs. Nancy Harrington died last night at 9 o'clock at her home, 79 Liberty street, of paralysis. She had been an invalid for many years, and two and a half years ago she sustained a shock which rendered her still more feeble. Three weeks ago she suffered another and the third occurred a little over a week ago. For several days before her death she was totally helpless and the end, which was free from suffering, was not unexpected.

Mrs. Harrington was born in Cheshire in 1825, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Viner. She was married to Alpheus Harrington when she was 17 years old, and they made their home in this city. Mrs. Harrington had been for many years a member of the Congregational church and was an earnest Christian. She was a good neighbor and friend and was highly respected by all who were acquainted with her. She leaves a son, George Harrington, of this city and one sister, Mrs. H. C. Leland of Hartford, Conn.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at the home of her son, 125 East Quinoy street. Rev. W. L. Tenney will conduct the services and the burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

Firemen's Concert and Dance

Fisher hose company, No. 4, held a concert and dance in Odd Fellows hall Friday evening for the benefit of the uniform fund. There was a good attendance. The concert pleased everyone and the participants John Fallon, E. J. Hughes, W. F. Smith, Maurice Phillips, P. J. Sullivan and the Gilberts, all acquitted themselves creditably. Dance music was furnished by the Ideal orchestra and was up to the usual high standard. A large number of badges were sold. The evening was an enjoyable one and a small sum was cleared.

SPECIAL NOTICE COLUMN

WILLIAMSTOWN

DEDICATION OF SOLDIERS' PLOT.

Program for Tomorrow's Grand Army Exercises.

E. P. Hopkins post, G. A. R., has completed the arrangements for the exercises to be held tomorrow afternoon in formally accepting the plot in East Lawn cemetery set aside by the town for the exclusive burial of veterans of war. The dedication promises to be an interesting event and the exercises will undoubtedly be witnessed by a large number of people if the weather is pleasant. The comrades of the post will meet at the post rooms at 1 o'clock and at 1:30 march to the cemetery in the following order: squad of police, Citizens' band, comrades of E. P. Hopkins post No. 209 G. A. R. associate members, and disabled veterans in carriages. The program at the cemetery has been nicely arranged. After a selection by the band the burial plot will be formally presented to the post, and a response and acceptance will be made by the commander W. L. Crozier. The raising of the flag will follow with appropriate exercises, which will be followed by a selection by the band and a prayer. The dedication services with an address, will follow, after which the benediction will be pronounced. In the evening a special union Grand Army service will be held at the Methodist church.

EXHIBITION OF SCHOOL WORK

Interesting Display of the Work of the Pupils to be Given.

An exhibition of public school work will be given in the Spring street school house next Friday and Saturday afternoon. Samples of written work, drawing and sewing will be sent in from all the public schools and will be placed on exhibition. The public is cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged but contributions will be received, which will be added to the school fund. This exhibition is given for the purpose of showing the excellent work which is now being done in the schools, and the advancement over former years, and is the first time that such an exhibition has been held.

SCHOOL MEMORIAL EXERCISES.

Special exercises were held in all of the public schools yesterday afternoon in honor of the Grand Army, and each of the schools was visited by different members of the post. These were as follows: High school building, Rev. W. R. Stocking, station, W. H. Smedley; Riverside, Commander W. L. Crozier; Spring street, I. S. Fowler; South Williamstown, Frank H. Daniels; Hemlock Brook, John M. Galusha; Buxton, J. W. Noyes. Each of the comrades spoke at the schools assigned them in the afternoon before the closing of the schools.

At the Riverside school special flag raising exercises were held. A large flag was raised in front of the school and a very appropriate speech was made by Commander W. L. Crozier, after which, exercises were held in the school. The school children will take part in the Memorial day parade.

PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENT.

The United Workmen held their second annual ladies' night in Grand Army hall last evening. The entertainment was opened by a selection by a quartet from Williams and was followed by an address by A. E. Hall. Mr. Hall spoke at some length on the advantages of the order and of its financial benefits. He was followed by a solo by James Gibbs. George E. Wraggs of Boston, grand master workman, was the next speaker. He opened his speech by telling several funny stories after which he spoke in behalf of the order. A. F. Howells, humorist, also spoke of the advantages of the order, after which he gave an impersonation of David Harum. The affair was a social success, and well attended.

COLLEGE CLUBS' CONCERT.

The college musical clubs will make their first appearance of the year in Williamstown at 7:30 next Thursday evening in Jemp hall. The clubs are the best of Williams has had in several years and will give practically the same concert they gave during the winter at Springfield, Westfield and Lansingburg.

ARMENIAN BENEFIT.

A social and entertainment was given last evening in the Methodist church parlors for the benefit of the Armenians. The affair was under the auspices of Mrs. H. H. Hunt's Sunday school class. Music was furnished by a string quartet from Williams and refreshments were served by the ladies.

Mrs. John Adriance has rented her cottage on the west side of South street to the Richards family of New York.

Miss Frances Snyder of Manchester, N. H., is visiting friends in town.

Edward Blake visited the Sons of Temperance meeting at Adams yesterday.

SIX MASTED SCHOONERS

Much Interest Aroused by the Craft Being Built at Bath, Me.

The six masted schooner which is being built in the yard of Percy & Small at Bath, near Bangor, Me., is an object of great interest to people from far and near, and thousands have come from distant points to see what she looks like. As the vessel, which is now nearly framed out, lies in the yard she does not look to be so large as a five master near by, which is 34 feet shorter, but she is fully as big as her builders have said she would be.

This big schooner is 301-feet 6 inches long on the keel, 50 feet beam and 23 feet deep, and they figure that she will measure about 3,000 tons gross, or about 2,750 tons net. This is larger than some of the big ships launched at Bath in recent years, says the New York Sun. Bath's latest ships have net tonnage as follows: Roanoke, 3,347; Arthur Sewall, 2,919; Edward Sewall, 2,917; Shenandoah, 3,154; Dirigo, 2,945; Erskine M. Phelps, 2,715; Susquehanna, 2,950. The schooner's keel is the longest ever laid for a wooden vessel on the Kennebec, being six inches longer than the keel of the ship Roanoke, the largest ship ever built in Maine. She is not much longer than the five masted schooner John B. Prescott, but is six feet wider and five feet deeper and is expected to carry 5,000 tons of coal to the Prescott's 4,400. The frame will be strapped diagonally with iron, and an iron plate an inch thick and a foot wide will be placed between the third and fourth strakes of her keelson throughout her length. Her keel will be of oak, 15 by 26 inches, and there will be nine sections in her keelson, each 14 inches square.

This monster schooner will be launched early in August, when Maine people will come from far and near to take part in the festivities of Old Home week. Before that, however, the six master now in course of construction at Camden, on Penobscot bay, will be in the water, it being planned to launch her on the Fourth of July with a big celebration. The Camden people say that their schooner will be bigger than that at Bath, just as their five master, the John B. Prescott, beat the Bath five master Nathaniel T. Palmer by five tons in size—2,240 to 2,244, net.

A New Process for Making Gas. At the last exhibition recently held at Crystal palace, in Leipzig, a new apparatus for generating gas from gasoline was shown. The gas can be used for illuminating, cooking and heating purposes and for motors, says the Chicago Record. The apparatus is intended for districts where there are no gas works, for factories, saloons, farmhouses and country seats. It can be placed in any good sized room which is not exposed to frost. It is automatic and odorless, and its use requires no technical knowledge. It is heavier than the air and therefore is less dangerous than coal gas.

Tobacco For the Highlanders. A meeting of Scotsmen was recently held to arrange for a present to Scotsmen at the front, says the Brooklyn Times. It was decided that a box of tobacco and a pipe should be sent to every member of the Highland brigade and the other Scottish regiments on active service in South Africa.

New Scheme For Raising Church Funds.

It has remained for one of the church organizations of Rockford, Ill., to invent what is to be known as "rubber day" in the annals of the church. On that day, June 9 being fixed as the date for the present year, all the members and friends of the church are invited to come to the church parlors, bringing with them all the old rubbers, rubber boots and other articles containing rubber which they may be able to gather together. The spoils accumulated in this way will be packed into barrels and shipped to a Chicago dealer, the proceeds being devoted to the work of the church, says the Chicago Tribune. It is expected that a considerable sum will be raised in this way.

Return of Miracles. Dr. Sheldon would better give himself longer than a week wherein to unravel the servant girl problem, says the Kansas City Times. If he straightens it out in five years the country will rise up and hail him as a worker of miracles.

NEW GUNS FOR STEAMERS.

How They are Used For Getting Rid of Ashes From the Engines. Timid passengers on their way to the Paris exposition need not tremble if they happen to see a big gun suddenly run out from the side of the steamer on which they are traveling. It will mean only that the steamship line which they are patronizing has adopted the latest method of getting rid of the ashes and other refuse from the engines, says the Chicago Tribune. One of the difficulties with which ocean going steamers have had to deal is that of getting the ashes up from the boiler room quickly and without unnecessary labor. It has been hard also to devise a method by means of which they could be thrown clear of the vessel without injuring the sides in some way.

The new ashes gun makes it all easy. The mechanism consists of a receiving shelf on which the ashes are shoveled and which connects with a discharge tube leading up to the breech of the gun proper. When the receiving shelf is thrown into position a stream of water from one of the ship's pumps is turned on under pressure, and this carries the ashes up and throws them into the sea clear of the ship's side. It is claimed for the new plan that it is cleanly, economical and safe.

New Clock Compass.

Captain Stewart of the steamer City of Milwaukee announces a new invention in a marine compass with a registering clock attachment. On a slip of paper which goes through the machine the slightest deviation from the course is registered, with the time thereof, and in this manner, according to a St. Joseph (Mich.) dispatch to the Chicago Tribune, the exact position of a boat may be determined during any instant of its voyage. Captain Stewart claims the invention cost him $5,000 and eight years' hard study. He believes it will be useful in admiralty litigation.

THE FUTURE

We present our views in this week's market letter on the Financial Situation, Attention, Am. Tobacco and U. S. Rubber and it may be of value to holders of these securities. It must not be forgotten that declining values in Wall Street are caused principally by the basis of sentiment of the big operators and the uncertainty of the political outlook. Do not forget that this is a great big money making country and the pendulum will swing just as far the other way one of these days. We will try to tell you when it starts. A copy of our letter will be mailed upon application and we respectfully solicit a share of your patronage.

Nervous Women

are ailing women. When a woman has some female trouble she is certain to be nervous and wretched.

With many women the monthly suffering is so great that they are for days positively insane, and the most diligent efforts of ordinary treatment are unavailing.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

comes promptly to the relief of those women. The letters from women cured by it prove this. This paper is constantly printing them.

The advice of Mrs. Pinkham should also be secured by every nervous woman. This costs nothing. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

EPISCOPAL—Regular services will be held Sunday. The ladies' will serve their usual supper next Tuesday evening.

CONGREGATIONAL—Sunday evening a united church service will be held. It will be a Memorial service for the Grand Army. General O. O. Howard will deliver the address.

NOTRE DAME—Masses will be at 8, 9 and 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning. At 9 o'clock mass 120 children will receive their first communion. In the afternoon at 3:30 a large class will be enrolled in the scapulars.

BAPTIST—The pastor will speak in the morning upon "Partial knowledge." No service in the evening.

Young People's union at 6 p. m. A study in missions, Mrs. Linnie Green leader.

Covenant meeting Wednesday at 7:30. The Helpers will serve refreshments on the grounds north of the church during the afternoon of Memorial day.

FESTIVAL OPENED SUCCESSFULLY.

The May festival under the auspices of the Daughters of Erin opened in Div. 3, A. O. H., hall Friday evening. The A. O. H. society attended in a body and there was also a large public attendance. A concert was given by Doyle's orchestra from 3 to 8. John A. Ryan of Boston, well known here since the time of his address at the A. O. H. banquet was present. It was this week at North Adams that he was elected state president and that part was a source of much pleasure to local A. O. H. members and the many local friends. President Ryan was not down for a speech but very unexpectedly he was called on and forced to respond. Speaking is easy and natural for him and he was equal to the occasion. He said he thought his new honor of president was one of the greatest that could come to him, to be at the head of 30,000 united Irishmen. He thanked the local society for its aid in his election and paid tribute to Rev. Fr. McLaughlin. He encouraged the work of the ladies' auxiliary and also said that Adams had already become a favorite place with him. He was loudly applauded and cheered. It was his first speech since his election. The hall is very tastefully decorated. There are several booths trimmed with pink and green and one of yellow. Many fancy articles are offered for sale, the handiwork of the ladies. A contest to see who could get the most votes was held between Margaret McGovern, Josie Coughlin and Mary Martin. The prize was a sofa pillow and was won by Miss McGovern 115 votes, Miss Coughlin 101 and Miss Martin 99. The fair will continue this afternoon and evening and dancing will be from 8 to 12 this evening.

A NEW HOTEL.

Many people have been wondering what was to be done at the Henry Barrett property on the corner of Spring and Myrtle streets. Measurements were taken this week and Mr. Barrett is having plans made for a hotel. Nothing definite is decided upon yet it is probable that the site will soon be that of a new handsome hotel worth about $50,000. It would cover all the land with a large front which would have an office, barber shop and store. It will be modern in all respects. During the construction the present house and barber shop would be moved to the rear of the lot. The foundation would be built by Contractor P. J. Barrett.

SUNDAY EVENING'S MEMORIAL SERMON.

General O. O. Howard who is to deliver the Memorial sermon at the Congregational church Sunday evening, has a wide reputation as a speaker of ability and worth. He was heard here before under the auspices of the Men's Sunday Evening club and all who heard him will go again. It will be a united church service as well as being especially for the G. A. R. Company. The Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans will attend. The post will meet at their hall at 7:30 o'clock. The services will begin at 8 o'clock. A special musical program is prepared.

Preparations are being made for the annual graduation exercises of the grammar schools, to be held in the opera house the last of June. The scholars who finish the course at the Renslow, Hoosac street, Liberty and Commercial street school and pass successfully will be graduated into the preparatory room at the high school. There will be speakers from each of the grades. Some will write essays and others will give declamations. A musical program will also be rendered.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL GRADUATION

At the recent election of Lieutenants by Company M, Burdette H. Millman was elected first lieutenant. Since then he wrote to Colonel Clark resigning the office. This will necessitate another election. It will be too late now to elect another new man who would have time to go to Boston and take the examination before the company goes into camp. Mr. Millman's reasons were that other business occupied too much of his time and he could not give the office the proper attention it requires.

RESIGNED THE OFFICE.

It was expected that the Rt. Rev. Bishop Beaven of Springfield would be here tomorrow to confirm a large class of boys and girls at Notre Dame church. However he will be in Brookfield for the same purpose and therefore the local exercises had to be deferred. It is probable that he will not be here before June 17, when he will come to dedicate the new St. Joseph's cemetery in North Adams and conduct the confirmation exercises at Notre Dame church in the evening.

BISHOP NOT COMING.

There was a large attendance at the N. E. O. P. social in Odd Fellows hall Friday evening. One of the grand officers from Boston was present and made a fine address. District Deputy H. C. Morris of Pittsfield also spoke. A gentleman from Boston gave some select readings; there were graphophone selections and a musical by local talent. Refreshments were served and a delightful time enjoyed.

N. E. O. P. SOCIAL.

A foundation is to be built under George Mausert's block on Park street. The cellar is being dug out and the dirt thrown into the old cellar on the Barker lot in the rear of the night lurch.

In a previous issue it was stated that the single men were ahead in the card games at the Caledonian club. The married men say it is five to two in their favor.

The Sons of Temperance held a concert and social Friday evening at the regular meeting.

There will be a Polish wedding celebration in Hermann hall on Spring street this evening.

Letters are advertised at the post office for Joseph LaPort, Mrs. Joseph Smith and Thomas Wright.

The foundation of the Hawthorn block on Park street is being raised.

The post office hours for Memorial day will be from 7 to 9 a. m., 12 to 12:30 and 5:30 to 6:30 p. m.

Mr. Standish of Springfield is visiting Mrs. Abbie Ingraham of Park street.

James Ryan, state president of the A. O. H. spent Friday as the guest of Landlord Welch of the Adams house.

The Sons of St. George will hold a celebration in honor of the queen's birthday this evening. It will be an informal affair.

The Adams Bicycle club will hold a club run to the Dewey hotel at Coltsville Sunday.

There will be a meeting of the Franco-American club Sunday.

A party from here will attend a trout dinner at Hoxie's hotel in Savoy Sunday.

The social committee of the Odd Fellows will hold a reception for members next Tuesday evening.

The regular meeting of Division 2, A. O. H., will be held Sunday afternoon. Miss Lenora Kennedy and Miss Mae Carney will spend today and Sunday at Miss Kennedy's home in Greenfield.

H. J. McLaughlin of Hoosac street is improving a little.

Frank Stetson is visiting friends in New York state.

Patton's Magic Ring

How had a wonderful sale the past week, but we anticipate double the sales this week. We intend to keep right on informing you of the wonderful power of this ring until nearly every man, woman and child in North Adams is provided with one. We shall not be satisfied until our sales in this city reach the 20,000 mark. Our ring is not a fad or faith cure, it cures believers and unbelievers alike. People who bought them five or six years ago are sending us new customers every day. Humberg at an end, science triumphant. For years the country has been flooded with fake cures which promise but never perform, waste no more money on them. Our ring is scientific, powerful, durable and effective. Hundreds of cures and North Adams people willing to be interviewed if you will take the trouble to call we will give you the names of North Adams Physicians who recommend them. We will also show the names of hundreds of grateful purchasers of our ring who have worn the ring constantly for the past seven years. We guarantee they will remain cured so long as they continue to wear the ring, as it draws out the poisonous uric acid from the blood as fast as it is secreted. We can name many prominent people who were sorely afflicted with rheumatism who will tell you that they would not part with their ring for one thousand dollars if they could not get another. It's no wonder our ring is growing more popular every day, as every happy wearer of one tells their friends of the great benefit they are deriving from it. We recommend and guarantee it only for diseases which are due to uric acid in the system (and there is not more than one in a hundred free from it), such as rheumatism in all its forms, neuralgia, kidney diseases, stone in the bladder, gravel, acidity of the stomach, painful or excessive menstruation, asthma, jaundice, nervous and general debility. For sexual weakness it is a reliable panacea. Price $2 each. Money refunded in 30 days if not satisfied.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Annual Public Meeting an Occasion of Great Interest

VARIOUS EDUCATIONAL TOPICS

Reminiscences of North Adams Schools 50 Years Ago. Dr. Bascom and Charles Bulkley Hubbell of New York City Deliver Addresses

There was a large attendance at the annual public meeting of the Fort Massachusetts historical society in the chapel of the Congregational church last evening, and the occasion was one of unusual interest. Two addresses, one by Dr. John Bascom of Williams college, the president of the society, and one by Charles Bulkley Hubbell of New York city, with a paper of reminiscences of the North Adams schools of 50 years ago, made up the bulk of the program. These were of both timely and historical interest, and the paper on the schools will be placed in the records of the historical society for its unusual value in recalling the beginnings of the North Adams school system.

The chapel was prettily decorated with flags and palms. Neat historical society badges were sold to those present by a committee from the society. Dr. Bascom presided, and spoke briefly several times in addition to his address of the evening.

The opening song, "Jerusalem, my glorious home," was sung by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Frank Smith, Miss Blythe, John Heywood, Jr., and J. K. Smith, the accompaniment being played by Miss Smith.

This was followed by the treasurer's report by Mrs. Hannah Richmond, showing that the interest has been kept up and $1000 on the principal paid since the fort property was purchased. The secretary's report was read by the vice president, W. A. Gallup. In the absence of the secretary, E. A. McMillin. This reviewed the work of the society and spoke of the loss the society suffered in the deaths of S. W. Brayton and Mrs. F. E. Swift. It closed with the hope that the membership could be increased and an invitation was extended to every one in Berkshire county to join the society.

Mrs. Dumville then read a paper of reminiscences of the public schools of North Adams 50 years ago. This was written by Miss Phoebe Burlingame and was of great interest. The paper in full will be published in the Transcript within a few days. It gave an account of the early schools here, the first school of which there is any record having been started in 1780. One interesting feature was the fact that the first high school in North Adams was started 30 years before New York city had a high school.

Dr. Bascom was the next speaker, and he gave an interesting talk. He laid special emphasis on the necessity for character forming in the schools, saying that the great thing is to teach pupils how to live with one another. Literal instruction has not yet been sufficiently substituted for the old religious training which has been done away with in the schools. It is the business of education to teach the true social and economic obligations, so that there may be no dishonest purpose in those who are sent out from the schools. As a nation we are dishonest to the highest ideals and our work in the world is faulty because of it. Good citizenship should be the aim of all education and the best training for the future is to be found in the history of the past. It is along these lines that the work of a historical society becomes of most importance.

Then came the address by Mr. Hubbell on "Extension in education methods." Mr. Hubbell was formerly president of the board of education of New York, and gave a very valuable address. He spoke of the general improvement in methods and spoke of a number of minor questions in connection with it. Among those were the Elmira system of physical training for refractory boys, and the tremendous evil of cigarette smoking among the school pupils in the cities. A brief abstract of Mr. Hubbell's address follows:

The last decade of the nineteenth century will appear in history as more distinguished by reform and progress in the scientific and educational worlds than any similar period that preceded it. Discoveries in the realm of science and the great pioneers in educational reform had already founded their dynasties, but the impulse that had been gathering force to extend and develop on the principles already exploited had its most rapid expansion in the ten years referred to. Morse and Field made it possible for the old and the new worlds to almost breathe in unison and changed the methods of commerce that had prevailed for a thousand years. In the last ten years a system has been perfected by which messages of affection, announcements of sorrow or directions to buy and sell property of the value of a kingdom, may be whispered across continents in an instant of time. It was reserved for the wizard Marconi to perfect an instrument so delicate as to extract from the circumambient air words that were whirled through space with no medium of communication save the surrounding ether.

In the educational world, Froebel and Pestalozzi, not so many decades since, said to the school master—teaching the A, B, C's and the three R's is not the greatest achievement of education, we must make men and women out of these boys and girls, and the alphabetical equipment referred to cannot accomplish it. They believed that character was built up not ready made by any convulsion or wholly received through inheritance and that the schools can accomplish almost as much as the churches in this work of construction. A distinguished clergyman in my city said recently: There are only two things that we can take with us to heaven—character and capacity and that the good Lord would have plenty for everyone to do who had a good stock of both. The object of education is to build up character and create capacity. Good citizenship is a certain result of the combination. A Harvard professor said not long ago that education is fitting a man to meet an emergency; that is one of its objects, but I would rather say that education has for its great object fitting a man to discharge the duties and perform the service of every day life. Whatever definition is most satisfactory, we feel that more is required and expected of education today than ever before. There are more vexatious problems to solve at the beginning of the new century than we have ever had to consider before, and the school boys of today must solve most of them or be overwhelmed by them. Our sky line here in this country has changed in two years; what are we going to do about it? Some of our orators tell us that the fifteenth amendment must be repealed and several million dark skinned citizens must be disfranchised; that education is a failure with reference to its purpose as related to the blacks, and that character and capacity don't count so much after all here, however current they may be in heaven. Our school boys will have something to say about that pretty soon. What are we doing to prepare them to form sound opinions and think out these and many other questions with their conscience as their only aid? The all powerful political organization of New York has, for a long time extended a watch known in the parlance of its members as the frozen hand to those who are not of them, and has now discovered that it takes an ice trust to fully develop the possibilities of its great and chilling purposes. Our school boys will be called upon to take part in the settlement of questions which make such monstrous invasions of public right possible.

The first requisite of better schools better teachers and better men and women is that politics shall keep its hands off the schools. It blights wherever it touches. The party or political organization that seeks to keep control of a school system for any reason should be discredited and dis trusted by all patriotic citizens. The best men in every community should be asked to administer our school affairs. It is only right and just that men of education should be called upon to administer educational affairs and that illiterate, vain and self-seeking men should not be tolerated in positions of that character.

The greatest achievement in the industrial world in the last ten years, has been the redemption of what was formerly waste material, that has been transformed into valuable merchandise. Improved methods have made the working of very low grade ores profitable, and recalcitrant ones have been made to contribute their glub-holly held gold to the wealth of the world.

The Standard oil company and some of the great stock yard companies, can and do pay dividends from the sale of bi-products that a few years ago were of no value. There is a new equation in the science of economics that contains an ascertainable value for what not long since was absolute waste.

Similar developments have been started by educators with reference to that part of the human race unhappily long considered as waste material. The stupid and degenerate youth are receiving the benefits of special treatment in schools conducted by methods applicable to abnormal conditions, habitual truants being restored by special treatment, in short, the low grade, recalcitrant specimens of the human race are found to be worth redeeming and restoring, and when so restored are established in useful citizenship. Processes of formation are found to be more valuable in society than those of reformation. Special teachers, kindergartens and school houses are more cheaply and satisfactorily maintained than asylums, hospitals and jails. Physical culture, music and manual training are most powerful allies in transforming the waste of humanity into useful men and women.

Every boy who leaves our public schools with a sound character, sound body and a sound mind is a distinct asset of the state and an integral element of strength in its maintenance. The hope for the future prosperity of our institutions for the next twenty-five years is not so much in our crops, our industries or our foreign trade,—it is in the character, capacity and intelligence of our public school boys.

SUCCESS CLUB BANQUET

Interesting List of Speeches After an Excellent Banquet

The Success club of the Y. M. C. A. held a banquet in the association rooms Friday evening and every member of the club was present. The tables were handsomely decorated with beautiful cut flowers and ferns. The banquet was served by the ladies' auxiliary and the menu was a bountiful and well served one.

W. R. Hale, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was toast master and he presided in a pleasing manner. Albert Gibson responded to the toast "The Success club" and gave a historical sketch; J. F. Manning's toast was "My Country," E. A. Goodenough spoke on "Success," L. B. Wright on "Influence," W. W. Smith on "Athletics," R. L. Scriven on "Woman" and George Muddock gave the "Finale."

The speeches were all brief and to the point and proved very interesting and well prepared. It was a most enjoyable occasion and was in every sense of the word a success.

The toast list program was a novelty, a program having been printed with typewriter and ink sketching and then photographed, one for each member.

UNION SHOE STAMP

What Changes It Would Make if Adopted in Local Shoe Shops

NO POSSIBILITY OF STRIKES

State Board of Arbitration the Final Authority to Settle Differences, Now in Use by Brockton Factories and Considered Here

Mention was made in this paper this week of the fact that John F. Tobin, president of the boot and shoe workers' union, was visiting the local shoe manufacturers of the city to interest them in the union stamp and the new arbitration agreement. As a result of his presentation of the matter, at least two of the local manufacturers are considering the question seriously of making their factories union, and adopting the union stamp. These would be the first shops in this vicinity to take this action, and the changes that it would make will be of interest. The union stamp and arbitration contract have been adopted by several of the large factories in Brockton where they are giving much satisfaction.

To secure the union stamp, manufacturers sign an agreement with the national union, which makes the agreement only on consent of the local unions. The chief feature of the new form of agreement or contract is that it absolutely prevents the possibility of strikes or lock-outs, arbitration being accepted by both sides as final.

Mr. Tobin claims that the demand for the union stamp on shoes is growing every day, and that manufacturers who have adopted it are quickly learning its advantages. A better idea can be gained of the new plan from the following abstracts including all the important points from the revised form of contract.

The Union agrees to furnish its union stamp to the employer free of charge, to make no additional price for the use of the stamp, to make no discrimination between the employer and other firms, persons or corporations who may enter into an agreement with the union for the use of the union stamp, and to make all reasonable effort to advertise the union stamp, and to create a demand for the union stamped products of the employer in common with other employers using the union stamp.

In consideration of the foregoing valuable privileges, the employer agrees to hire as shoe workers, only members of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union in good standing, and further agrees not to retain any shoe worker in his employment after receiving notice from the union that such shoe worker is objectionable to the union, either on account of being in arrears for dues, or disobedience of union rules or laws, or from any other cause.

The employer agrees that he will not cause or allow the union stamp to be placed on any goods not made in the factory for which the use of the union stamp was granted.

It is mutually agreed that the union will not cause or sanction any strike, and that the employer will not lock out his employees while this agreement is in force. All questions of wages or conditions of labor which cannot be mutually agreed upon shall be submitted to the Massachusetts state board of arbitration, whose decision shall be final and binding upon the employer, the union and the employees.

The union agrees to assist the employer in procuring competent shoe workers to fill the places of any employees who refuse to abide by section four of this agreement, or who may withdraw or be expelled from the Boot and Shoe Workers' union.

The employer agrees that the union collectors working in the factory shall not be hindered or obstructed in collecting dues of members working in the factory.

The employer agrees that the general president of the union, or his deputy upon his written order, may visit the employees in the factory at any time.

The employer agrees that the union is the lawful owner of the union stamp. The union agrees that no person except the general president, or his deputy upon his written order, shall have the right to demand or receive the union stamp from the employer.

Should the employer violate this agreement, he agrees to surrender the union stamp or stamps in his possession to the general president, and that the said general president, or his deputy, may take the said stamp or stamps wherever they may be, without being liable for damages or otherwise.

In case the said employer shall for any cause fail to deliver said stamp or stamps to the general president or his deputy, as provided in this agreement, the employer shall be liable to the general president in the sum of two hundred ($200) dollars, as liquidated damages, to be recovered by the general president in an action of contract, brought in the name of the general president, for the benefit of the union, against the employer.

This agreement shall remain in force until.....

Should either party desire to alter, amend or annul this agreement, it shall give a written notice thereof to the other party three months before expiration of the agreement; and if the parties fail to give such notice, the agreement shall be in force for another year, and so on from year to year, until such notice is given.

Surgeon Failed to Pass

Dr. John S. Hitchcock of Northampton, who was appointed assistant surgeon of the Second regiment with the rank of captain, on May 1, was disqualified at the examination before the staff military examining board on Wednesday evening by physical disability. Dr. Hitchcock has not yet recovered from the severe illness brought on as a result of exposure during the Cuban campaign. Colonel Clark will hasten the appointment of a successor to Dr. Hitchcock in order to have the headquarters staff complete before the tour of duty at camp.
